

LOWREY MAGIC

BEAUTY IN YOUR LIVING ROOM. MUSIC IN YOUR LIFE.

When you sit down at a Lowrey Genie, magic happens. You don't just play the organ. You conduct a concert. And instead of a baton, it just takes one finger to put you in command of drums, banjos, bass, piano, strings, brass, flutes, Hawaiian guitar, electric guitar and a lot more. At the flip of your finger your orchestra can jump from swing to rock to waltz to authentic Latin rhythms you'd swear came from south of the border. Sound like magic? It is. Lowrey Genie Magic.

CONTEMPO 80 WITH MAGIC GENIE MODEL CO-80

The Lowrey Contempo 80 is an exciting new design in spinet organ styling. Rich, hand-rubbed walnut, brushed aluminum accent and smoke Plexiglas music rack combine to bring you the contemporary look of elegance. In addition, every exclusive Lowrey feature is contained within this contemporary organ. Automatic Organ Computer (AOC)[™] transforms one finger melodies into full chords. And the amazing Magic Genie offers automatic bass and accompaniment. Add to this Golden Harp[™] for beautiful arpeggios. Symphonic Strings for a string ensemble. And the Orchestral Symphonizer section for bass, reed and percussion voices. The Contempo 80 is Lowrey's latest contribution to beautiful sound in a unique cabinet design.

Available in Walnut finish.

The ultramodern styling of the Contemporary 80 organ is also reflected in the matching bench.

SYMPHONIC HOLIDAY WITH MAGIC GENIE MODEL TGS-1

You're the conductor when you play Lowrey's Symphonic Holiday. The Symphonic Sound delivers the most lush, lifelike string section ever. For every string voice, you get the sounds of three separate violinists, each with his own unique touch. And the four channel acoustic mixing, based upon sophisticated recording studio techniques, spreads the sound of each instrument in different directions across your living room for exciting concert hall acoustics. While one finger plays automatic three-note chords, another finger can play fully chorded compositions. Combine the fifteen automatic rhythms. Add whatever amount of reverb you want, and get a haunting cathedral sound. Piano and harpsichord arpeggios. Guitar and ukulele strums. A rotating Leslie speaker. Boogie-woogie bass. And an orchestra full of instrument voices. A day at the stereophonic Symphonic Holiday really is a holiday.

Available in Mediterranean Distressed Pecan, Early American Distressed Cherry, Traditional Walnut, and Distressed Early American Pine.

ORCHESTRAL HOLIDAY WITH MAGIC GENIE MODEL TGO-1

You're a maestro in a matter of minutes, in command of an entire orchestra—The Orchestral Holiday. First, select your musicians merely by touching the tabs. Choose from harpsichord, Hawaiian guitar, piano, vibes, oboe, violins, banjo and a lot more. Next, select one of 15 different automatic rhythms, or make up combinations. Now, press just one Magic Genie key. That's all it takes. All your instruments start playing automatically with fascinating rhythm. Flip the AOC™ tab and start playing chords with just one finger. Turn on the special effects. Auto-Wow™ Reverb for cathedral acoustics. Repeat to set your mandolin player's pick in motion. Vibrato to vibrate the sound. Glide to slide the sound. Automatic piano and harpsichord arpeggios. The Leslie rotating speaker spins that sound all around. And you're right in the middle of your stereophonic orchestra, having an Orchestral Holiday.

Available in Mediterranean Distressed Pecan, Early American Distressed Cherry, Traditional Walnut and Distressed Early American Pine.

MAGIC GENIE 98 MODEL TG98-1

The difference between Lowrey's Magic Genie 98 and the stereophonic orchestral sound of a fine high fidelity system is that with Lowrey, you play the music—even if you've never played a note in your life. One finger for the drums, cymbals, flutes, vibes, oboe, bass, banjo, piano, Hawaiian guitar and more, playing your favorite rhythms and a full three-note chord. One more finger for a fully chorded melody. Lowrey rhythms are considered the best you can get outside of a hit recording studio. In fact, a lot of hit recording artists use Lowrey designed rhythm units to orchestrate their rhythm sections. Lowrey engineering excellence shows in the instrument voices, too. You may have already heard Lowrey organ voices and special effects. If you enjoy listening to good music on your stereo, imagine playing great music on the Magic Genie 98.

Available in Walnut, Distressed Pecan, Early American, Distressed Cherry or Distressed Pine.

MAGIC GENIE 88 MODEL TG88-1

Play the dual role of musician and conductor with Lowrey's Stereophonic Magic Genie 88. Your musicians are among the finest you can get: A trombone player who knows how to use a mute over the bell; a harmonica player who even breathes that familiar "wow" into the notes; a bass player who doubles on string bass and electric guitar bass—alternating rhythms or boogie-woogie; the drummer doesn't miss a beat; even a Hawaiian guitarist who makes the sound sway like a tropical breeze. They'll play rock, Latin, country, swing or they'll improvise and combine rhythms. And you're conducting this orchestra with just one finger. There's a lot more, like the rotating Leslie speaker and the guitar and ukulele you can actually hear the pick strumming. But, best of all, there's you, right in the center of this stereophonic sound. Conducting a masterpiece at the Magic Genie 88.

Available in Walnut, Pecan, Early American Fruitwood.
